1. An improvised airfield, about 2 x 3 km, was located about 6 to 7 km northeast of Sartichala (41°43'N/45°11'E), Georgian S.S.R., just north of the railroad line.
2. The buildings at the field included one administration building, 5 x 10 x 30 meters; three barracks buildings, each 5 x 7 x 20 meters; and a post exchange, 5 x 12 x 20 meters. Additional quarters for 500 men were to be constructed by the middle of 1943; the framework of the buildings was completed prior to the middle of September 1947.
3. About 50 splinterproof aircraft revetments, spaced about 50 meters apart on the northern edge of the field. The sidewalls ^{were} supported by boards and poles. Soviet engineers said that Soviet fighters had been stationed at the field during the war. There were no concrete runways, taxiways or boundary lights.
4. Neither flying activity nor aircraft were seen. *
